GRADIENT METHODS FOR INVERSE HEAT CONDUCTION PROBLEMS [1]

Dinh Nho Hào
Universität - Siegen, FB Mathematik, 57068 Siegen, Germany
On leave from Hanoi Institute of Mathematics
Supported by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG)
and
H.-J. Reinhardt
Universität - Siegen, FB Mathematik, 57068 Siegen, Germany

A variational method for inverse heat conduction problems (IHCP) is studied. Various variants of gradient methods based on this, as the whole domain method, sequential procedure, generalizations of Beck's methods, are presented. Several numerical examples are given.

[1] Inverse Problems in Engineering 6, No. 3(1998), 177-211